To Whom It May Concern:

I am applying to become a Frontend Software Engineer. I am a recent graduate from Western Washington University with a Bachelor of Science degree focusing on Computer Science. For the past year I have worked as a web developer for multiple divisions within the university.

Throughout my collegiate career I have worked on many projects ranging from single page websites to multi-threaded chat servers. Using PHP for webpages and data retrieval, React Native for mobile application development, and languages such as Java, C, C# and Python for various course work, my exposure to these languages has helped me solidify my understanding of high-level concepts that are crucial in this industry .

My professional experience has been focused on front end web development. Department heads would request an updated web page and using HTML, CSS and JavaScript I would create their new webpages to the design specifications they provided.

Thank you for taking the time to consider my application, I look forward to learning more details about the position and company.

Sincerely,

Mario Gonzalez
